Faculty Appreciation Week 2022

UT faculty dream big, tackle great challenges, discover and share knowledge, mentor and inspire students, and serve communities. Faculty Appreciation Week is an annual celebration of UT faculty, their work, and how they represent the Volunteer spirit. Faculty Appreciation Week will include events intended to build community, celebrate diversity, share ideas, and have fun.

Introducing our Faculty Consultant for Curriculum Development

Recently, TLI was able to bring on Dr. Deepa Deshpande as our Faculty Consultant for Curriculum Development. In Deepa's work with TLI, she supports curriculum development and design efforts, course-based assessment, and helps with faculty and graduate student consultations. She also leads TLI programs and events aligned with her professional expertise, and holds particular experience successfully teaching and working with faculty in STEM environments.

For more information about Deepa's professional experiences and background, as well as her contact information, click the button below.

Appreciation for Supporting our 2022 Innovative Teaching & Learning Conference

Teaching & Learning Innovation would like to thank all of our participants, speakers, and guests that attended and support our 2022 Innovative Teaching & Learning Conference! We had over 475 attendees this year, and that would not have been possible without the support of our campus community. We could not succeed at what we do without you!

Below is information about our final upcoming workshop for the spring 2022 semester.

Inclusive Assessment to Evaluate Student Learning
